

We are very distressed about this intrusion of network privacy.
It is unconstitutional and indicates further effort by our government to meddle into our personal business and into our lives. We will be keeping track of this as it progresses.